Do you realize that while you were in your mother's womb, God was already busy forming you into the beautiful person you are today? We read in Psalms 139:13-15: "You made all the delicate, inner parts of my body and knit me together in my mother's womb. – I thank you, High God—You're breathtaking! Body and soul, I am marvelously made! I worship in adoration—what a creation! You know me inside and out, you know every bone in my body; you know exactly how I was made, bit by bit, how I was sculpted from nothing into something."

No matter what your skin color may be, or your complexion, God put it together! God had a plan and a purpose for you and me on planet earth from the get go; at least that's what we've been told by Jer. 1:5: "Before I shaped you in the womb, I knew all about you. Before you saw the light of day, I had holy plans for you: -- that's what I had in mind for you."

Therefore, I want to challenge you today, to strive in this year of new births to be all He wants you to be, to be all He created you to be. I dare you to rejoice in who you are and who you can become as we walk in His presence in this coming year. After all, you're nothing short of beautiful. We were wonderfully made, and you are beautiful because you have been known by God from your mother's womb.

Go ahead beautiful people, be all you can be for Him.

In His service, your fellow servant,
Pastor Paul Santos
