

Being Where God's Power Can Reach You

Pastor's Desk – April 21, 2019

Many people in the Bible experienced the manifestations of power in their lives as they placed themselves in a position where God's power could touch them. In the book of Acts 10:33, we read: "now therefore, we are all present before God, to hear all the things commanded you by God." Cornelius found God's goodness so great that he placed himself where God's mercy and power reached him and his household so that he couldn't even wait for Peter to finish his sermon. Just as soon as Peter had started speaking of God's power, and how he anointed Jesus Christ of Nazareth with power not only to salvation, but also to perform miracles and signs (Acts 10:38-44), as soon as Peter spoke enough to be a basis to their faith, down came the blessings of the Holy Spirit, filling all those present in Cornelius's house, once again proving that faith comes by hearing, and hearing by God's word.

I challenge you to place yourself where God's power can reach and touch you today. Then, like Cornelius and his household, wait and see and experience the most overwhelming demonstration of his love, power, and mercy.

I believe that the same power that brought Jesus Christ back from the dead will flow until you have reached the limit of your expectations. May this be that great day where you will be right where you need to be, and God's power will touch you mightily!
